The Metro East Human Rights Authority, a division of the Guardianship and Advocacy Commission, will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 2, at the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services, 3675 Namecki Road.

It serves Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Randolph, Bond, Washington, Monroe, Jersey, Calhoun, Greene, Montgomery and Macoupin counties.

It attempts to ensure the rights of the disabled through fact-finding on complaints which can be made by anyone. Persons wishing more information may contact Penny Cockrell Rauch, rights coordinator, 10231 Lincoln Trail, Suite 7, Fairview Heights, Ill. 62931 or call 397-0802 Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Large trash items will be picked up April 6 through April 10 in Chouteau Township according to Robert Douglas, highway supervisor.

Highway Department workers will pick up all large items not picked up by the garbage collectors, except tree limbs and tires.

Residents with articles for special pickup may call the township garage at 831-6333 between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m. the week before to make arrangements.

Inside

There's only one direction for the Lady Warrior softball team to go — up. Granite City (3-18 last year) opens the 1992 season Tuesday in Roxana. Coach John Hutchings hopes that his team, with a year of added experience, can have some fun and increase its win total.

EPA asbestos plan criticized

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

Work will begin in mid-April to remove asbestos at the former Jensen-Wright plant in Granite City, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency officials said Wednesday.

But some Granite City officials do not feel the IEPA is doing enough to improve conditions at the site.

The company filed for bankruptcy in November 1989 and stopped wood-treating operations here in July 1990, leaving contaminated soil, sludge and groundwater along with deteriorating buildings and operating debris at the 22nd Street and Missouri Avenue site.

While the area remains unsightly, no one is left for the asbestos to harm, officials said.

"I'm disappointed that the IEPA is not taking more aggressive action on cleaning up the site itself," Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse said. "It sits in the center of a residential neighborhood that is near the entrance to our city, and it's an eyesore."

Fourth Ward Alderman Dan Partney, whose ward includes the plant, is also unimpressed with the IEPA agenda.

"It's fine and dandy that they're doing something, but I'm not totally happy with the plans to remove just the asbestos and store it in a building on-site," Partney said.

State officials say money is not available for a full cleanup at this time. They say leaving the stored asbestos on the site will not create a problem.

A seal order has been placed on the property, notifying the public to keep off the grounds due to potential threats to

Public meeting Monday on lead study progress

By Bob State
Staff writer

The Illinois Department of Public Health will hold an informational meeting Monday to update residents on the progress of the Madison County Lead Study.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at the Granite City Township building, 2060 Delmar Ave. The study, which began in July, was undertaken in response to citizen concern over the hazard posed by lead contamination from NL Industries/Taracorp, a former secondary lead smelter and current Superfund site.

The Taracorp smelter operated for more than 80 years, causing airborne lead to settle in residential areas and contaminate soil, according to the IDPH.

The site and the surrounding contaminated areas are the focus of a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Superfund cleanup based on the lead content of the soil.

The IDPH study is attempting to determine the relationship

Breakfast program to be tried at Lake School

By Randy Vaughn
Staff writer

Breakfast will be served at Lake Elementary school on Wednesday, April 1, as part of a school district pilot program.

The pilot program for daily student breakfasts was approved Tuesday at a Granite School Board meeting following a presentation by Food Service Director Brad Eavenson.

The program will start at Lake and will be extended to Niedringhaus Elementary School on April 20 and Mitchell Elementary School on May 4, Eavenson told the board.

Lake will serve breakfast from 8 a.m. to 8:25 each morning at a cost of 50 cents. Those students who are on the free and reduced-price lunch program will be able to have breakfast for up to 25 cents.

The morning meal ultimately will be served to the entire district, including junior high and high school students, if everything goes as well as planned, Eavenson said.

The remaining six grade schools will be added early in the 1992-93 school year, followed by the secondary schools, he said.

"We will start at Lake Elementary because it presents all of the opportunities that we foresee as possible stumbling blocks for the program," Eavenson said. He cited possible problems as bus schedules and a cafeteria serving as a gymnasium.

Lake operates two buses that arrive at the school at about 8:20 a.m., and a lunch room serves as a gymnasium.

The breakfast will be of a light variety, such as cereal, fruit and muffins, to allow the students to finish prior to their 8:30 classes, Eavenson said.

"The children will have enough time to grab breakfast and make it to class," he said. "We then have to get the lunch room ready to be a gymnasium by approximately 8:45 a.m."

Niedringhaus and Mitchell will also help spotlight any pitfalls, he said.

Niedringhaus has a high walk-in count, with an independent cafeteria and no bus traffic, Eavenson said. Mitchell is a large school which serves about 350 children for lunch; it has a gymnasium/lunch room and nine buses.

"We're hoping to learn how to deal with these problems before we serve breakfast district-wide," Eavenson said.

Eighty-year-old Jimmy Dilallo presents chili dinner tickets to Tracy and Danny Dugan.

Double charity

Family donates chili tickets to the needy

By Robert McKeown
Correspondent

"Would you like to donate to the Royal Rangers?"

With that simple pitch, eight-year-old James Dilallo began his charitable efforts to raise money for tickets for the annual Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church chili dinner, which was held Saturday.

In the past, the $3 tickets were used to support camping and awards for the Assembly of God Church's Royal Ranger Outpost 78, a youth organization similar to the Boy Scouts.

This year, James and his father, Frank Dilallo, had a different idea.

They decided to sell candy suckers instead and use the money raised to purchase the chili dinner tickets, giving them away to the Four Square Church's food pantry. They were then made available to the needy.

James, along with his sisters, Madlyne, 9, and Amber, 6, worked for five days in front of local stores selling suckers in exchange for donations.

The Dilallo children's hard work and determination paid off handsomely. The children sold 104 tickets for a total of $313.75.

"Most kids usually sell about 30 tickets,"

Frank Dilallo said.

As a soccer coach, the elder Dilallo has his team sell suckers to raise money for registration fees and an annual banquet.

"Dad, he made the idea up," James said, giving full credit to his father.

Mitchell woman faces check fraud charges

A Mitchell woman faces six to 16 years in prison after being charged with a $4,500 credit union scam, Granite City Police said.

Alice Jean Rogers, of the 700 block of Ashland Avenue, was arrested Wednesday night by Collinsville Police at the Best Western Motel on Illinois 157.

Authorities describe Rogers, 35, as a well-known con artist in the metro-east. Police said that two years ago Rogers was involved in a scam in which she befriended a number of elderly people and convinced them to give her money with hard-luck stories. Some apparently turned over their entire life savings, police said.

Rogers was charged in the latest incidents in a Granite City Police Department warrant issued Tuesday by the Madison County state's attorney, reports noted. She faces two counts of deceptive practice after allegedly

Recognition called key for teachers' success

By Christopher Knight
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD — Recognition is the secret to having successful educators, according to Granite City teacher Edward Schroeder.

"It is so important that teachers feel appreciated," Schroeder said in a presentation Thursday to the Illinois Board of Education.

"Pat your good teachers on the back. Stroke those teachers. We need it so much," the English teacher at Coolidge Junior High School said. Schroeder told board members

he relishes all the back-patting he's received since the Wall

Disne named him national "teacher of the year" in November.

Since winning the award, a day hasn't gone by, except for Christmas, that the telephone hasn't rung, mail arrived or someone stopped by to congratulate him or ask him to give a speech, he said.

Clerk office divisions to move during courthouse renovation

Most of the Madison County Circuit Clerk's office will be on the move while the County Courthouse is renovated.

The offices will move to two buildings near the courthouse, one owned by the county and another being rented for the county treasurer's office.

"We'll get almost all of the clerk's offices out of the courthouse," Chief Circuit Judge Paul Riley told the County Board's Buildings Committee Tuesday.

The offices will probably move in June and return in December or January, James Monday, the county director of administration, said.

Most non-court county offices are expected to move into the county's new administration building in May and June.

The courthouse will be remodeled for the exclusive use of the courts and the circuit clerk's office, which handles court files.

The portions of the clerk's operations moving to the county-owned building at 116 Hillsboro Ave. include the family, traffic, misdemeanor, child support and law divisions, as well as central records and case filing.

The clerk's probate, mental health, juvenile and small claims divisions will move to rented space at 400 St. Louis St., where the treasurer's office is now located. A courtroom for those kinds of cases will also be located there.

The clerk's felony division and the felony courts will remain in the courthouse during the remodeling.

GE intensifies coffeemaker recall

The General Electric Company has intensified its recall of GE brand and Universal brand drip coffeemakers manufactured before April 28, 1984, according to the St. Clair County Health Department.

GE, in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, launched a voluntary recall of these units in March 1991. They want to remind consumers that these coffeemakers could represent a significant fire hazard and that consumers in many areas of the United States still have not returned their units.

The company believes that a fire hazard may occur when a supplier's thermal fuse in the coffeemaker fails to function as intended. About 9 million drip coffeemakers bearing the GE or Universal brand name were manufactured between 1976 and 1984.

As an incentive to return these coffeemakers, GE is offering owners $10 for each recalled unit returned. A $10 check will be mailed when a unit is received.

GE will give consumers with recalled coffeemakers pre-paid mailing cartons. The carton will contain instructions that will tell consumers how to arrange for convenient pickup. This innovative method of recall is aimed at reducing consumer effort and increasing the rate of return.

No units made on or after April 28, 1984, are involved in this recall. To determine the date of manufacture, check the date code number stamped on the outside metal blade of the electric plug.

Plan would ax school posts

SPRINGFIELD — The State Board of Education has unanimously endorsed state school chief Robert Leininger's controversial plan to eliminate the state's elected regional school superintendents.

Leininger acknowledged the plan has brought opposition from the regional superintendents, but said most calls he has received were favorable.

Supporters include the State Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois Manufacturers Association and the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois.

The state superintendent said his proposal was "not a personal issue" or a vendetta against regional school chiefs.

"This is business," Leininger said. However, he also said he "didn't appreciate some of the attacks by the very few (regional) school superintendents."

Some of the regional officials have alleged that Leininger was out to get them because he was angry when they proposed eliminating funding for the Educational Service Centers run by the state board.

Leininger said Thursday that "some of the best educators I know" are regional superintendents, but he contended the proposal they oppose was the best for the state's education efforts.

Legislation to adopt the plan won't be introduced until next year. Leininger said a committee will be appointed to refine the proposal and get additional public comment.

The broad outline of the plan approved by the state board eliminates regional superintendents, regional boards of trust ees and the Educational Service Centers by July 1996.

The 18 service centers would be replaced by intermediate units. The number of units is undetermined, but it would be greater than the 18 service centers and fewer than the 37 educational service regions.

Area regional superintendents charged earlier that Leininger's plan was undemocratic and said they were providing valuable services as the only remaining elected school administrators.

Madison County Regional Superintendent Harry Briggs ripped Leininger's plan, contending it would end up costing more money and delivering less service to students and teachers.

April 1 deadline prompts onslaught on commercial driver testing facilities

With an April 1 deadline just days away, the testing of truck and bus drivers is reaching record levels at Illinois drivers facilities, Secretary of State George H. Ryan said.

Nine licensing facilities in the metropolitan Chicago area have implemented six-day work weeks and extended hours of operation to help applicants meet the deadline for obtaining the new commercial drivers license.

There are no extended hours at the Granite City office or other downstate facilities, said Troy Simpson, assistant to the director of the drivers services department.

"Illinois has been one of the most successful states in getting the word out and encouraging commercial drivers to get the new license," Ryan said.

"By April 1, we expect to have licensed about 220,000 commercial drivers, more than 95 percent of those affected by the new requirement."

As of Wednesday, 218,842 commercial truck and bus drivers have been licensed since the testing program began about two years ago with 28,791 approved in March and more than 50,000 of those passing the test since Jan. 1.

"The facilities are busy," Simpson said, adding that those who wait until the last minute to obtain the license would probably end up waiting in line.

Specific numbers from individual facilities were unavailable, Simpson said. Representatives at local facilities referred all questions to the Springfield office.

The new licenses were mandated by the federal Commercial Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1986 as a means of standardizing licensing requirements for trucks and bus drivers and improving traffic safety.

The licenses are required for drivers of vehicles that weigh more than 26,000 pounds, carry 16 or more passengers or transport hazardous material.

Those exempted from the new requirements include farmers, except those who drive truck-tractor semi-trailers, and drivers of firefighting, military or recreational vehicles.

Ryan's office has worked closely with Illinois trucking companies, associations and unions to assist drivers in preparing for the test and passing it by the deadline. About 40,000 commercial drivers participated in a group testing program coordinated by the office.

"Compared with other states, Illinois has been on the leading edge of developing and implementing a testing system," said Robert Jaumon, executive vice president of the Midwest Truckers Association and chairman of Ryan's Truckers Advisory Board.

The office's CDL public information campaign — which included billboards, toll booth handouts and series of mailings to licensed truckers — received national recognition from the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Cottonwood Theater set to reopen in May

The only movie theater in the Edwardsville-Glen Carbon area is reopening after a brief intermission. Moviegoers should be able to see their favorite flicks on one of three screens at the Cottonwood Cinema by the end of May. The theater closed in January after Carmike Theaters declined to renew its 10-year lease.

"We're getting our plans together now," said John Miller, general manager of Kerasotes Theaters, the cinema's new owners. The Springfield-based Kerasotes Theater chain has been in business for 82 years and operates 94 cinemas and more than 280 screens in Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Indiana.

Area movie houses operated by the chain are the Eastgate 6 Cinema in East Alton, the Roxana Cine, Stadium Cinema in Jerseyville, Nameoki Cinema in Granite City, the Lory Theater in Highland and the Ritz and Quad theaters in Belleville.

"We're pleased to have someone so knowledgeable," said Tina Barnard, spokeswoman for the Cottonwood Mall. Kerasotes "will serve the community well."

The cinema, in the mall at the intersection of Illinois 159 and Cottonwood Road, was the only one operating in the area since the Wildey Theater in downtown Edwardsville closed in 1984.

When the Cottonwood Cinema reopens it will have new projectors, seats and other furnishings, Miller said. Details of the new operation will be announced later.

THE VOICE BOX: Who should win the Oscar for best actor? The nominees are Warren Beatty, Anthony Hopkins, Robert DeNiro, Robin Williams, and Nick Nolte.

By John Swistak Jr., T.L. Witt and Pam Doepke-Hurd

Lorena Arnold, Pontoon Beach
"Nick Nolte. He's a good actor. Saw him first on TV on 'Rich Man, Poor Man.' He was so good, and he's sexy."

Marlene Miller, Granite City
"Nick Nolte. I've seen all the actors and their pictures and he gave the best performance. Besides that, he's really good looking."

Cheryl Ridgeway, Collinsville
"My favorite actor is Robin Williams, because I really enjoy his work. I think Nick Nolte should win the Oscar, he did the best acting job."

Sharon Cochran, Collinsville
"I think Robin Williams should win because he's awfully funny, but I like Warren Beatty because of all the different roles he plays. He's really good."

John Robertson, Swansea
"Nick Nolte. I like him as an actor. I think it's his time to win."

Marion Franklin, East St. Louis
"DeNiro. I like his work. I think he is an outstanding actor. 'Cape Fear' was good work."

Free tree seedlings to be offered

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, announced that in celebration of Arbor Day, April 24, the Department of Conservation will again be offering free tree seedlings to Illinois schoolchildren.

"I believe it to be of great importance that Illinois students know how to plant trees, understand a tree's development and realize the extensive benefits that can be gained from the upkeep of our tree stock," Vadalabene said.

The Department of Conservation has reserved 400,000 tree seedlings of 11 different varieties for distribution by Soil and Water Conservation Departments and local Rotary Clubs. While these organizations will focus on providing tree seedlings to third-grade students throughout the state, all students in kindergarten through eighth grade are welcome to partake in planting a free seedling on Arbor Day. In addition, educational material will be available.

For more information, contact the Division of Forest Resources at 217-782-2361.

The Department of Conservation is also sponsoring a fishing hot line through October (1-800-624-3077). The toll-free number will provide information on fishing conditions and other conservation-related issues.

Postcard Show April 4-5 in Collinsville

The third annual Metro East Postcard Show will be Saturday and Sunday, April 4-5, at the VFW Hall, 1234 Vandavia St., Collinsville. Hours on Saturday are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Postcard dealers and collectors from throughout the United States will be at this show to buy and sell old and modern postcards.

Postcard collecting is one of America's fastest growing hobbies and people collect cards from all types of categories. One of the most popular pastimes is to collect cards from your hometown. These views may show your city in the early 1900s with a dirt street in the picture, or they may show the town in the 1960s with the Woolworth Store in view. Old postcards are images that tell about America's past and they are an important historic document of American life. For more information, call 832-1921.

Carol Braun Senate campaign is organizing in area

The Carol Moseley Braun campaign for the U.S. Senate is organizing in the Metro East area for the November election. She won the Democratic nomination for the Senate in a three-way race March 17, ousting incumbent Alan Dixon of Belleville and defeating a third challenger, millionaire Al Hofeld. During the primary campaign, two area women were contacted by the campaign staff to coordinate efforts in this area. Leah Myers-Smith and Kittle Connor agreed to work with the Braun campaign here and began their efforts early this year.

Since Braun's primary election victory, they have received an increasing number of calls from people wanting to help in the campaign.

Anyone wanting to volunteer for the Carol Moseley Braun campaign may contact either Kittle Connor at 682-4839 or Leah Myers-Smith at 277-3768.

House OKs national park on riverfront

WASHINGTON — The House of Representatives has approved legislation sponsored by U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, D-Belleville, to designate a national park on the East St. Louis riverfront.

The park would be an extension of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, now home to the Gateway Arch in St. Louis.

"With this action, the House has committed itself to a national park on the east bank of the Mississippi River," Costello said. "It is half of the journey toward Congressional approval that would fulfill the original dream for the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial."

H.R. 2926 was approved by a voice vote on the floor of the House. The bill would designate a 100-acre site on the East St. Louis riverfront opposite the Arch in St. Louis.

It now goes to the Senate for consideration. The bill raises authorized funding levels for land acquisition to $2 million; removes the "binding commitments" clauses in current law, which requires a local operation and maintenance share; and calls for a 3-to-1 federal/local match for park development, identical to the original Gateway Arch legislation.

"With this bill, we remove the unfair obstacles in present law that have impeded progress on the park for eight years," Costello said. "There is no reason why one of the poorest communities in the country should pay for operation of a federal park, a provision that exists in no other locality nationwide."

The legislation designates a "mirror image" of the west side park, between the Eads and Poplar Street bridges and back from the waterfront.

Upon its enactment, the National Park Service would begin creation of a new management plan for both the west and east park areas. In addition, once it is signed into law by the president, the secretary of Interior could use previously appropriated funds to acquire land for the park.

"It is my hope that the Senate can act quickly on this legislation, so that we can send it to the president's desk for approval," Costello said.

"With enactment of this law, the secretary of Interior can begin moving quickly on land acquisition, to make this park a reality."

The Southwestern Illinois Development Authority has been working with area land owners to prepare for the land acquisition process by the Department of Interior.

Senior Fair — Jennie Peters, Granite City, gets her blood pressure taken at the Senior Citizens Fair recently at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. It was the 22nd year for the fair. Sponsored by the university's Gerontology Program, the fair included entertainment by vocalists, choral groups, instrumental groups, dance troupes, comedy acts and kitchen bands. The day's activities also included preventive health screenings, informational social service booths, films, craft tables, workshops, tours and medical information. The Warren Brown Orchestra provided music for dancing.

Music courses offered at SIUE

Legislature amends rental utility laws

Tenants whose landlords shut off utilities or allow the service to be terminated for non-payment of rent may be responsible for paying money damages to tenants who lose the service.

The Illinois Legislature recently made a number of substantive changes to the Rental Property Utility Service Act. The statute was originally passed to address rental leases where the landlord was required to pay for utility service and didn't, causing the tenant to lose water, gas or electricity.

The law established limited remedies that tenants could use, such as receiving service in their own name, or petitioning a court to appoint a receiver who would receive rent in place of the landlord to assure continued service.

New paragraphs expand tenant remedies when service has been terminated. Paragraph 62.1, effective Jan. 1, 1992, states in part:

"No landlord shall cause or request utility service to tenants to be interrupted, discontinued or terminated in an occupied building by (1) nonpayment of utility bills for which the landlord has assumed responsibility by agreement or by implication (such as where the utilities are master metered) or by (2) tampering with equipment or lines."

If the landlord does cause termination of service as outlined above, tenants are entitled to money damages. Tenants may get to live rent-free for each month or part of a month in which the utility service is terminated.

Tenants may also be awarded money damages for any costs they incur as a result of the landlord's wrongful utility shut-off.

A court order may further award "statutory damages" to each affected tenant in the building, up to $300 each or $5,000 divided by the number of affected tenants, whichever is less, if it finds that the landlord acted on purpose.

New Paragraph 62.2 involves the situation where tenants pay the utility company not only for their own service but also for the service of other tenants or common areas in a building. This might occur where a building only has one water meter or one gas meter for two or more apartments. Common areas might include hallways, lounges, basements or laundry rooms.

Landlords must take certain steps before even offering a lease or accepting a security deposit when a tenant might end up paying for more than his or her fair share.

Money damages are available to tenants whose landlords do not follow the specific requirements of this law.

Tenants who bring actions under this provision may also recover court costs and attorney fees if the amount awarded by the court for utility service is greater than $3,000. Paragraph 62.2 does not go into effect until July 1, 1992, and its remedies are not available for violations occurring prior to that date.

For more information on the Rental Property Utility Service Act, persons may contact the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation Inc. office serving their county. Clients may call 1-818-271-9140.

BAC pioneer Hal Hall dies at age 84

Hal Hall, a pioneer of the Illinois community college system, died last Sunday in a nursing home in Louisa, Va.

Hall, who was 84, helped establish Belleville Area College in 1946.

He died of complications of Alzheimer's disease.

BAC president Joe Cipri said he was deeply saddened to hear of Hall's death.

"His ideals and efforts truly enriched our region," Cipri said.

Hall served as superintendent of Belleville Township High School District 201 from 1945 to 1956.

Almost as soon as he had begun his work at the high school, the school board put him in charge of establishing a junior college.

In 1946 he helped start Belleville Junior College with three full-time teachers, a librarian and only 183 students.

The name was later changed to Belleville Area College.

A native of Carbondale, Hall received his bachelor's degree in education from Southern Illinois University at Normal. He received his master's in business administration from Northwestern and his doctorate in education from New York University.

He worked as a business teacher, coach and later superintendent of Greenville High School. He then moved on to the same positions at the University High School district in Carbondale.

After leaving Belleville, he became superintendent of schools in Elmhurst, Ill.

Piasa Bird's flight plan illegal, group says

ALTON—The Piasa Bird may have its wings clipped by a local environmental group.

The Alton/Godfrey Rotary Club announced it plans to move the 4½-ton steel bird from Norman's Landing to the bluff overlooking Blue Pool, about three-fourths of a mile west on the Great River Road.

But the project could threaten a nighttime roost for bald eagles and destroy wetlands, said Jim Bensman, conservation chairman of the Piasa Palisades Sierra Club.

"We are going to actively fight this any way we possibly can," he said Monday.

In a letter to the Rotary Club's Piasa Foundation, which takes care of the bird, Bensman charged that the proposed move would be illegal because the area is protected by state and federal environmental laws.

Blue Pool is designated as a state nature preserve and protected from any development, Sierra Club member Bob Freeman said.

"The people who want to move the Piasa Bird into Blue Pool haven't done their homework," he said. "Under state law, this preserve cannot be disturbed."

Bald eagles have roosted near Blue Pool for years, Freeman said.

The foundation proposal includes filling in Blue Pool and building a 100- to 120-space parking lot. Blue Pool is an abandoned limestone quarry owned by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The quarry filled with water years ago and is a popular swimming hole.

"The Blue Pool area is an environmental treasure," Sierra Club member Wayne Politich said. "It's 300 acres of woods, beautiful rock formations, plants and wildflowers."

Chuck Norman, a member of the foundation and owner of the property where the bird now roosts, said last week the move would alleviate traffic congestion caused by bicyclists using the Vandalia Bike Trail.

He predicted congestion would get worse once the bike trail is extended to Alton later this year. Filling in Blue Pool, he added, would eliminate a danger. Several people have drowned there over the years.

"There's no necessity for this," Bensman said. "They are misrepresenting the situation (at Blue Pool). It's not the big party center it used to be."

Bensman said there were other ways of solving the parking problem, including a time limit at the lot.

Building a parking lot at Blue Pool would scare away eagles, he said.

He conceded eagles are only in the area from mid-November to late February, when bike trail traffic is at a minimum, but said the parking lot would still have an adverse effect on the birds.

Foundation members are expected to meet with Bensman in the next few weeks to see if an agreement can be reached, Norman said.

"I don't know what we're going to do on that yet," he said. "We haven't received any other negative comments on this from anyone. We are not looking to tear up and destroy anything."

Bensman's letter cited state and federal environmental rules that could halt the project.

"That doesn't mean things can't be agreed upon," Norman said.

Bensman said he thought Norman might have plans to build a fast-food restaurant or otherwise develop the site. "There must be ulterior motives here," he said. Norman has declined to say what, if any, plans he has for the area. The foundation's lease on the property runs out next year, the 10th anniversary of the bird's mounting on the bluff.

The foundation will need the permission of several state and federal agencies before the project can get under way. Obtaining approval is expected to take at least a year.

—From the Alton Telegraph

If you have a dog . . .

You need to be concerned. Heartworm season is fast approaching. And it's as easy as a lazy afternoon nap in the shade for your dog to be affected by this potential killer. That's the bad news. The good news is that, with a few easy steps recommended by Bellemore Animal Hospital, heartworm disease is easy to prevent.

Canine heartworm disease is spread by mosquitoes. Every dog is a potential victim. If left untreated, heartworm disease can result in the death of your dog due to the damage it causes to the heart, lungs and other organs.

Signs of heartworm disease include a chronic cough, loss of appetite, weight loss and fatigue. However, these signs do not appear until the disease is well advanced. Sudden death can occur without any warning.

A simple blood test—once a year—can diagnose this disease. If your dog is free of heartworms, then a once a month treatment can protect your dog from heartworms for the rest of the year. The preventative is safe, affordable and easy to handle.

Bellemore Animal Hospital will be happy to answer any pet related questions you may have. Dr. Susan L. Jenner, practicing veterinarian at Bellemore, is a member of the American Heartworm Society, an organization of professionals dedicated to following the most recent advancements in prevention and treatment of Heartworm Disease.

You can call today to schedule your dog's heartworm check. Dr. Jenner or Dr. Timothy L. Holt will be happy to get to know you and your pet. Appointments can be made by calling during office hours.

Don't wait . . . it's a matter of life or death for your family's best friend.

OH MY ACHING CORNS!

A phrase so commonly used by those suffering needlessly from painful corns. Although trimming them affords temporary relief, within 1-2 months regrowth of the corn occurs along with the pain and discomfort. The recurrence is due to the underlying calcium deposit causing excessive pressure where the skin responds by building up that hard corn tissue. In almost all instances, the corn can be permanently removed by an inflexible procedure requiring little or no time off of work. There is no need to suffer any longer... consult the physicians and surgeons at THE FOOT HEALTH CENTERS.

Sutureless (No Stitch) Cataract Surgery

Until now, all cataract surgery required a large incision into the eye to remove the cataract and implant a lens. Eight or more stitches were required to close the wound.

Recently, however, a new soft implant has been developed that can fit through a 4mm (about 1/8 inch) incision.

A new surgical technique now allows this surgery to be done without sutures. The result is a rapid recovery of vision and an immediate return to normal activities.

Joseph Costello burned in fire

Joseph Costello, brother of U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, remained in critical condition Friday at St. John's Mercy Medical Center in St. Louis with burns on his arms and chest.

Joseph Costello, 46, the assistant superintendent of maintenance for the St. Clair County highway department, suffered the burns when a fire broke out on his boat early Monday morning.

The 24-foot Bayliner boat was docked on the Kaskaskia River near New Athens when the fire broke out about 5 a.m. The fire was apparently caused by a faulty heater.

Costello was first taken by ambulance to Belleville Memorial Hospital, and then was transferred to the burn unit at St. John's Mercy Medical Center.

Costello was in the pool with Starfish and Tadpole classes.

Scams

let us know so we can investigate the situation. "A common scam is to offer to seal driveway for elderly people."

"They tell people that their driveway needs to be sealed. They rub some type of solvent on the driveway and charge for it. All they have probably done is ruin the citizen's driveway."

Dennis Orsey, assistant Illinois attorney general for the eight-county Granite City region, said, "They offer to do a variety of home-improvement jobs, including blacktop work on a driveway, shingles work on a roof, or a paint job on a house."

Orsey recommended a number of tips to residents to avoid being bilked or burglarized by transients:

"Any time a resident is solicited to authorize a service, one should be cautious. 'Always know who you are dealing with by asking for names and addresses of their business establishment,' Orsey said."

"The scammers are quick to offer a discount price, if you act today. 'It's always a good idea to get three written estimates before believing that someone is offering a discount price.'"

"Beware of individuals who are working out of the back of their truck and happen to be in the area. 'Always ask for references of home-improvement contractors. The reputable ones will be happy to offer you names. The fly-by-night people will say they are new to the area or that they can't give away names.'" between blood lead levels - particularly in children - and exposure to various environmental sources of lead, including soil, dust, paint and water.

More than 800 individuals in nearly 500 households participated in the study.

The meeting, which is open to both study participants and interested citizens, will address the results of the blood analysis and other biomedical tests, the results of paint analysis and other study-related issues.

The IDPH study is being funded by the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry, an Atlanta-based Public Health Service agency.

The study is being carried out by the Institute for Evaluating Health Risks, a non-profit organization located in Washington, D.C.

Analytical support for environmental sampling is being provided by the U.S. EPA.

Representatives of IDPH, ATSDR and IEHR will be on hand to discuss the study, answer questions and address concerns.

Citizens will also be asked to identify locations of crushed battery casings, previously used in a bankruptcy settlement with Johnson-Wright to conduct additional testing at the site. The money should have been used for clean-up work, he said.

"Enough testing was done to close down the business. They're trying to beat a dead horse with more testing," Partney said.

The plant is decreasing the number of people's adjacent property and is a "black eye" on the city's image, he said, adding, "We, the people, are the ones being hurt."

Partney has criticized the spending of $848,000 from the bankruptcy settlement with Johnson-Wright to conduct additional testing at the site. The money should have been used for clean-up work, he said.

human health and safety. "If it's that dangerous, get it out of our city," Cruse said. "I don't see how gathering it in tanks and leaving it will help all that much."

"I don't think it would cost that much to tear down buildings and get rid of tanks," Cruse said.

Partney said, "I've been pushing the state to clean up the exterior portion of the site - the tanks, buildings and debris - because it's an eyesore in its present condition. Later, when money comes in from the Superfund, they can take action to clean the soil."

Soil contamination on the property is estimated to cost $20 million to $30 million to clean up, according to the EPA.

The site is being reviewed as a possible candidate for the federal Superfund program, but such funding could involve a long wait, Cruse said.

"We can't wait for the Superfund before we make the site more appealing," the mayor said. "We don't allow our people to pile trash on their property and leave it, and I don't think the state should either."

She also faces two counts of forgery after allegedly returning with two forged withdrawal slips to withdraw $583 from the account of her mother and sister, Lela Kirkover, two days later.

The ex-daughter-in-law of the couple, Lela Kirkover, 25, was also charged with two counts of deceptive practice for allegedly cashing another $1,996 bad check at the credit union March 11.

Both Rogers and Kirkover are accused of writing the two $1,996 checks at the East Alton Illinois State Bank on the closed business account of a Decorations Galore in Moro. The account had been closed since 1990, police said.

The two women presented the checks at the credit union at the same time, authorities said; as a result, both were charged with two counts of deceptive practice.

The checks were signed by a John Parker, but police suspect forgery, Granite City Detective Don Petrillo said. However, no charges have been filed at this time.

Heron payment will aid endangered species

By Christopher Knight
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD - State officials Friday received the first of two $50,000 payments from a Granite City company that damaged a heron nesting area.

The company, Mississippi River Transmission Corp., has agreed to pay $100,000 to the state's Natural Heritage Endowment Trust Fund as reparation for its tree-trimming damage in the Tank Town area near Granite City.

Madison County State's Attorney William Haine has called the destruction a "tragic loss of wildlife" and vowed to see that it wouldn't happen again.

The tree trimming, contracted by Applund Tree Expert Co., severely damaged herons' nesting grounds. The trimming was done to clear a path for a right of way being built by Mississippi River.

Jim Garner of the conservation department's Natural Heritage Division said the damage to the heron area is repairable and the birds currently are using the site.

Odds and ends as weather 'warms'

Now comes the meanest season.

At least that's the opinion of some about spring sports. Baseball, softball, soccer, tennis and track can be fun to cover, but to some the perils involved outweigh the fun.

There is one sports editor in the metro east who despises the spring sports season. He does his job and gets everything covered, but he makes no secret of his dread for April and May.

Baseball is his main target. He likes the game itself, but it can get a little hairy sometimes at the high school level. The weather at this time of year can be well, you know. More often than not it seems the status of games is in question most of the day. You're wondering if you should hold space in the sports section for the game or start thinking of something else to use to fill that hole.

Often, you don't know until the last minute — and then something else could go wrong. There's a power outage and the game is called because of darkness; the drainage system is shot and field is soaked even though it hasn't rained for three days; or one of my old favorites the umpires didn't show up, or one of them was an hour late.

My friend can recite several horror stories involving any of the above reasons. And his 1992 spring season got off to a roaring start last week. He sent a photographer to shoot a track meet. When the cameraman got to the appointed site, he discovered the meet had been moved to another location with no advance warning.

You gotta love it. I hear everything my friend says and agree with much of it. But things seem to work a little better locally, although the track at Madison High School has yet to be fixed up and a home meet last week for the Trojans and Trojantes had to be cancelled.

In Granite City, there is usually every effort made to get the fields in shape on game day. So here we go. I hope I'm not jinxing myself and we have a rain-soaked and postponement-filled season.

I'd hate to start sounding more and more like my friend.

As spring and summer approaches, more and more recreational activities begin to pile up. We're interested in running scores and standings from as many leagues as we have room for.

The Granite City Park District does a great job year-round submitting results from softball, baseball, basketball, broomball and all the rest. Howland and Granite Bowl do the same. Any league is welcome to bring in its results.

Submit the standings and scores printed or (preferably) typed neatly and clearly. The summer is the best time for news of this nature since schools are out and we have more space for city and park activities.

Any special accomplishments by individuals or teams are also of interest to us. Photos of a high quality are encouraged along with all pertinent information.

I've also been asked about coverage of junior high school sports. Space and personnel don't let us cover the junior highs like we do the high schools. But coaches are encouraged to occasionally submit items on outstanding teams or individuals.

This has to come entirely from the coaches. Teams that get the most in are teams with coaches doing the best job as a publicist.

It's up to you. Looking forward to hearing from everyone.

Softball team hopes to change direction

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

It's been said that when a team is down there is only one direction to go.

The 1991 edition of the Lady Warrior softball team was about as low as one could get. They were 3-18 and finished fifth in the Southwestern Conference (they beat East St. Louis twice).

The question is how much better can 1992 be? Some answers could be revealed Tuesday when Granite City opens the season in Roxana at 4 p.m. Head coach John Hutchings starts his third season leading the program, and his goals for now are modest. His main objective is "for the girls to have fun and to become more competitive. We should win a few more games."

Overall, the team will have much more experience to start the year.

"Last year we were young and inexperienced, and searching for a mix," said Hutchings. "We are still searching, but now we have a lot more to work with."

Four-year starter Mia Puhse figures to handle most of the pitching, with sophomore Kari Buckingham waiting in the wings.

"Buckingham will start for the junior varsity, if not for us," Hutchings said.

The infield appears to be set with an all-senior lineup of Kari Sykes at first, Darla Mayhall at second, Dawn Bazzell at shortstop and Tiffany Winters at third. Sophomore Jessica Thomas and Buckingham will also see action in the infield, Hutchings said.

The outfield is not as set. Left field will be manned by senior Amber Pierce or senior Wendy Chamberlain. Center field appears to be in the hands of senior Terri Buster and right field should be either senior Amy Choat or Sheila Heil's.

The catcher appears to be sophomore Nikki Coulter.

"Those players will get the first opportunity at all of those positions," Hutchings said. "But if we aren't playing well after a few games, younger players will get a shot."

Hutchings said he will look to the JV for help.

"There seem to be quite a few good prospects there," he said.

That includes juniors Dana Clements and Erin Davis; sophomores Kristi Melton, Amy Gooch and Christy Lour; and freshmen Julie Bohnenstiehl, Robin Cain, Jill Hellrich, Shannon Miller and Leslie Ragsdale.

"Team defense remains Hutchings' major concern."

"We had games last year where we gave the game away in the first few innings," he said.

"Our defense seemed to fall apart. It's hard to play catch-up ball all the time in this sport.

Our defense has to be there every game because we are not that good with the bats.

"We are going to have to be more aggressive at the plate and start hitting if we expect to turn this thing around."

The typically unpredictable spring weather has hampered the progress of pre-season practice.

"I would feel better if we could just get in one good week of practice," Hutchings said. "I hope it dries up soon."

John Hutchings

Belleville East and West will be conference favorites again, with Collinsville good and Alton improved.

"East just clobbered us last year, but we played West pretty tough," Hutchings said. "We have our work cut out for us. But the enthusiasm is there and the girls are working hard."

19 Warriors make all-conference winter teams

Marshall, J. Smith are first-teamers

Thanks mainly to wrestling, Granite City High School again had the most athletes chosen to all-Southwestern Conference teams for the winter sports season.

There were 19 Warriors honored, including 11 first-teamers. The wrestling team, which won the conference and finished 27-1 in dual meets while advancing to the state quarterfinals, had seven first-team picks and was represented in each of the 13 weight classes.

In boys basketball, senior center Jeff Smith and senior guard Drake Marshall were first-team selections. In girls basketball, senior forward Karen Sykes and sophomore center Jamie Cavaness made the first team.

The wrestlers chosen to the first team were 103-pound junior Pat Scheffer (43-6), a sectional champion who placed fifth in the state; 119-pound senior Ryan King (44-3), a regional and sectional champion; 130-pound senior Dan Hicks (32-17), who advanced to state; 135-pound senior Mark McKechan (31-11-2); 140-pound senior Chris Hoffstot (42-6-1), a regional champion who advanced to state; 145-pound senior Jerry Heuschman (38-10), who advanced to state; and 189-pound senior Jeff Heuschman (31-14).

Making the second team from Granite City were 112-pound freshman T.J. Slay (33-12); 125-pound senior Jason Moerlien (26-10); 160-pound senior Scott Simon (27-18); and senior heavyweight Al Willard (33-11-2). Third-team choices were 152-pound freshman Tony Buchek (9-8) and 171-pound senior Andy Richards (31-15).

Entries being taken for Hall golf tourney

Entries for the sixth annual Granite City Sports Hall of Fame golf tournament are now being accepted.

The tournament, to be played in a scramble format, will be May 8 at the Legacy, according to tournament director Les (Timbstone) Thompson. The Hall of Fame banquet will be that night.

Entry fee is $20 and includes prizes, golf balls and refreshments. Each player will be responsible for green fees and carts. First prize is $120, second prize is $80 and third prize is $60. There will be shirts and caps for fourth and fifth place. On the 6th hole, closest to the pin will get $100.

Anyone making a hole-in-one on the 14th hole will receive a courtesy of Butch Peterson Chevrolet-Buick in Salem.

The cutoff date for entries is May 1. Players are requested to send their handicaps and their entry fee to Thompson at 3250 Westchester, Granite City, Ill., 62040.

For more information, call 872-6736. Tickets to the dinner are $15 and can be obtained by calling Al Barnes at 452-0433. Tables of eight are also available.

Park having baseball, softball signups now

The Granite City Park District is taking signups for boys and girls wanting to play youth baseball or ponytail softball.

Any boy or girl who will be 8 years old this year is eligible. Names are placed on a list and teams are formed from this list or managers who need players will fill rosters from the list. Boys and girls who will be 15 years old and younger may also have their name put on a list and every effort will be made to get them on a team.

Anyone interested in managing a youth baseball or softball team should also call or stop in the park office. For more information, call Ray Hoffman at 877-3059.

Park now registering teams for summer ball

Registration is being taken for youth baseball and softball teams that wish to participate in the Granite City Park District leagues.

The entry fee is $170 and is being accepted at the Wilson Park office for returning teams. New teams also need to register. Any person wishing to manage a youth team should call Ray Hoffman at 877-3059 for more information.

District 22 Junior Groups hold mid-year meeting

The District 22 Junior Groups of the American Legion Auxiliary held their mid-year meeting on Feb. 29 in Columbia. Columbia Unit 581 Juniors was the hostess group and served lunch to 32 people.

Jennifer Lehr, junior district president, conducted the business meeting. Reports were given by each of the groups present on their activities during the past four months. Chelsey Peery, district chaplain, was given her obligation of office by District 22 president Betty Wellman. Chelsey was unable to be present when the others were installed.

Two special guests present were: Marlene Schrader, Department Junior Activities chairman, and Mary Patterson, past department President. Both ladies are from Lincoln, Ill. Other guests at the meeting were Judy Zimmerman, fifth division junior chairman; Dorothy Hinson, past department president, and Angela Zimmerman, department junior president.

Discussion was held and plans made for the bingo party to be held at S.A.V.E. in Belleville in April. Plans were announced for the Department Conference in May. Kirsten Yobbi, a member of Venice-Madison 307 Juniors, will be a candidate for the Department Junior President office.

Cindy Yobbi, district junior chairman, encouraged the girls to enter the various contests which will be judged at the next meeting.

Betty Wellman, district president, announced helping two units organize junior groups, Dupo and Archview Units.

Following the meeting, the girls bowled two games. Trophies were given the high scores in two age groups. Up to nine years, winner was Chelsey Peery of Venice-Madison Unit 307. Ten to 17 years, winner was Angela Zimmerman of New Douglas.

Those attending from this area were: Beth Baker, Christina Ballard, Rhonda Ballard, Amanda Foley, Reda Lindsey, Jenna Miller, Megan Miller, Cathie Moreland, Chelsey Peery, Kal-

Disadvantaged youths may apply for 75 summer jobs

Approximately 750 summer jobs are available for economically disadvantaged youths ages 16 to 21 who live in St. Clair, Clatsop, Monroe, Randolph, and Washington counties.

World War II Army tank coming here

Kathy Dohnal covers the Madison-Venice scene for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 877-1096.

Our VFW Post 7451 is in the process of acquiring a huge M-17 World-War II Army tank from the U.S. Army Tank Command in Michigan. It will be located on our Post grounds with a new paint job as a monument to our veterans living and dead and a constant reminder of what such an armored vehicle can do in battle.

The tank will weigh 50 tons, will be brought here from Michigan on a "low boy" type of transport. A demilitarization team from the Illinois National Guard will demilitarize the tank, welding shut all hatches and making the tank inoperable. The engine will be removed as well. The gun breech will be welded also.

Les White, our VFW Post Commander will be in touch with the Army Command, and make such final arrangements for the delivery of the World War Patton tank, which saw much action in World War II.

The VFW Post plans to have flowers planted around the tank and shrubbery, with floodlights to light it at night. It will be an impressive site for all to view this Patton Tank, we will let you know of the delivery date so the public can watch the unloading.

The Quilting Club met recently to celebrate the belated birthdays of Vera Sikora and Marie Szymek at Ravanelli's. Attending were Mary Ann Bunk, Helen Monsehegan, Katie Sueich, Catherine Measki.

First-name familiarity erodes credibility

Ian MacBryde

Sometimes this business of telling the electronic media what it should be doing takes on the frustration faced by one trying to roll back the tide.

So whenever someone else picks up the banner, we feel somewhat vindicated—even if we're on the same side for different reasons.

"News Block" on KMOX-AM (1120) is the often lively and frequently valuable couple of hours between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday, when Bob Hardy presents a variety of information to his listeners including an interview with someone in the public eye.

On the March 20 program, the interviewee was Missouri Sen. J.B. "Jet" Banks, a colorful character who has risen to Senate Majority Floor Leader. Suddenly, Hardy interrupted the easy flow of conversation to note that a caller had complained that Hardy was referring to his guest as "Jet." No disrespect intended, Hardy quickly assured the audience that this was not a case of "familiarity breeds contempt." It's just, he explained, that he and Banks go way back.

My guess is that the listener who called was concerned that Hardy was not conveying proper respect to Banks. But the truth is that Hardy refers to many of his guests by their first names, and some of them have more exalted titles than state senator. It's just the way Hardy refers to them.

And while some listeners may not think that form of address conveys the proper respect, my concern is different. I think it tells the listener that Hardy and his guest are friends and therefore, the guest can expect easy treatment. And while that may not be true, the familiarity, therefore, erodes Hardy's credibility as an interviewer.

Even less easy to excuse is the habit of television reporters of referring to people involved in news stories by their first names. These are people whom the reporters have almost surely just met—if that does, indeed, make a difference. When the phenomenon first appeared locally, a couple of years ago, I thought it an aberration introduced by one or two reporters in feature stories. I assumed the practice would soon be stamped out by news executives who would see that not only is it disrespectful, it impairs the credibility of the reporters. Not so.

I have lived to see the first name familiarity applied to politicians in interviews. I see it in references to people old enough to be the reporter's grandparent, to the families of murder victims, to people caught up in just about every kind of news story we see on the air.

And what about those news executives I mentioned earlier? Well, they seem to think that the use of first names is a second reference (last name only, just as in every newspaper in the country) is impersonal, and that they think first name references are warm and fuzzy. As usual, in matters of electronic journalism, warm and fuzzy wins.

And they scratch their heads when the public questions their credibility. Amazing, isn't it?

CBS Learns
A tip of the hat to CBS which seems to have learned a great deal about televising the NCAA basketball tournament over the last couple of years.

Whereby I criticized the network for losing the impact of the tournament last year by presenting the games one at a time without much regard for what was going on at the other venues, this year we have seen far more of a tournament. CBS has done reasonably well at keeping viewers posted on other developments at the same time we are seeing the game which presumably has "local interest."

I say reasonably well because, for the most part, the network shows graphics every several minutes which include scores from other contests, and usually cuts away to the final moments of other games. But sometimes, those graphics don't appear for relatively long periods of time. Obviously, the people who are making decisions have a problem. They are committed, with good reason, to showing us games of local interest. On the one hand, if they tell us that other games are closer, or more interesting, they only make some of us want to watch the other games. If, on the other hand, they keep that information from us, they only frustrate some of the viewers who have more than a passing interest in those other games.

"It seems to be a belief at CBS we would rather watch people talk basketball during halftime than show us another game in progress."

There also seems to be a belief at CBS that we would rather watch people talk basketball during halftime of the game we are receiving than show us another game in progress. I guess Billy Packer, Mike Francesa, and Jim Nantz have to get the business. I'd prefer to see other games.

The answer of course is new technology. CBS is approaching very gingerly the concept of showing two games at once—smaller images within the same screen—probably because it feels the two images might be confusing. I find myself perfectly capable of focusing on what ever one I wish to watch. But, admittedly, the image of the game is so small as to lose a lot. I wonder how far we are from a television set which would allow us to tune to CBS and then flip between whatever game the network might be presenting? Oh, well, sounds like a basketball junkie's fantasy.

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.

Trivia: Many pop tunes mention days, nights

By Bill Beggs
Correspondent

"NIGHT AND DAY"—U2 has re-recorded this Cole Porter classic for a tribute album. The remix is a heck of a dance song but not (yet) a mover in the Billboard Hot 100. The U2 version and the original are as different as, well...

Pop song titles often refer to either the a.m. or p.m. and, rarely, like The Kinks' "All Day And All Of The Night," both.

1. Freddy Fender, with what No. 8 hit from 1975, threw away both his mornings and evenings?
2. Almost 15 years ago, in late April 1977, "Southern Nights" was a No. 1 pop hit for what country star?
3. In 1976, the Bay City Rollers and Rod Stewart both had No. 1 hits with a little "night" music. What were their titles?
4. What was the Fab Four's No. 1 hit in August 1964?
5. What was the No. 3 hit in the spring of 1968 for The Rascals?
6. Who hit No. 1 in the fall of 1973 with "Midnight Train To Georgia"?

night Train To Georgia"?

1. Oliver, No. 35 in 1969, and Spanky & Our Gang, No. 30 in 1968, both had hits with what song about a certain part of a certain day of the week?

8. Who was workin' on his "Night Moves" with his so-titled No. 4 hit from 1977?

9. What 1979 tune became the Bee Gees' biggest disco hit?

10. What was the heavenly No. 4 hit in 1981 for Juice Newton? (Extra credit: Who first hit the Top 10 with this tune, No. 7, in 1988?)

ANSWERS: 1. "Wasted Days And Wasted Nights" 2. Glen Campbell 3. Respectively: "Saturday Night" Jan. 2, and "Tonight's The Night (Gonna Be All Right)," Nov. 13, began its eight-week run into 1977 4. "A Hard Day's Night" stayed at the top two weeks for the Beatles 5. "A Beautiful Morning" 6. Gladys Knight & The Pips 7. "Sunday Mornin'" 8. Bob Seger 9. Special Arts Fest at SIUE April 2-3

More than 2,000 school children, parents, teachers and teacher aides are expected to attend the Very Special Arts Festival scheduled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville April 2-3.

Art activities will be held in the University Center from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

In addition to the university, the annual festival is sponsored by Very Special Arts Illinois, the Arts and Education Council of Greater St. Louis and the Student Government at SIUE. The theme for this year's festival is "Save Our Rainbow." It is an environmental theme that emphasizes three Rs: "recycle, re-use and reduce," in art education.

The festival gives disabled and non-disabled persons the opportunity to participate in programs which demonstrate the value of the arts. Goshen Lounge will be the main site for entertainment activities, while Meridian Ballroom will be filled with "sharing" activities for the youngsters.
